COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will explore both the theory and practice needed to work in the field of addictions. This course covers a wide range of topics from specific counselling skills to the context of drugs in our society. A social justice, strengths-based, harm reduction orientation to substance use and addiction will be applied.

The course is divided into a number of different themes, specifically:
(1) The course will explore addiction and recovery using attachment theory as a foundation.
(2) A harm reduction based approach to practice in the field of addiction will be examined.
(3) Mainstream and emergent models of practice at the individual, family, group, community and policy levels will be examined. A number of practice models to addiction treatment will be explored. Selected emergent models of practice will also be discussed.
(4) Social Justice will be explored throughout this course. Our society’s primary response to illegal drug use and addiction is through the criminal justice system. The evidence shows that this approach has failed. A new model based on social work, human rights and public health principles will be examined.

Participation in this course will allow students to familiarize themselves with the concept of addiction from a range of theoretical perspectives, with an emphasis on a bio-psycho-social-spiritual-environmental understanding of addiction.

Class time will be primarily comprised of presentations, group discussions, and role plays. Each class will entail a focused discussion for which the instructor will share responsibility with students for the creation of a positive and engaging learning environment.

Rationale

Social workers in virtually all areas of practice deal with individuals, families and communities who have problems related to drugs, substance use and misuse. Social workers can play a role in policy development, health education and promotion, direct provision of addiction-specific services (including treatment services), provision of harm reduction services, assessment, referral/linkage, mobilization of self-help, mediation, advocacy, community development, public education and research.

Learning Outcomes

1. To acquire knowledge in relation to:

   (1) the core concepts in the field of addiction; historical and political context of addiction and drug policy,

   (2) various theories related to etiology and treatment of addiction,

   (3) the principles of drug action and the physical and psychological effects of the major drugs of abuse (including stimulants, sedatives, opiates, hallucinogens, marijuana, alcohol, nicotine, and prescription drugs); biophysiological mechanisms of addiction,

   (4) the roles and fields of practice of social workers in the field of addiction,

   (5) the larger context of drugs in our society and how our current criminal justice approach to drugs has failed and how our society would benefit from a public health model of controlling currently illegal drugs.

2. To develop skills in relation to:

   (1) engagement of those who are affected by drug use and other addictions;

   (2) assessment of those affected by drug use and other addictions;

   (3) intervention with those affected by drug use and other addictions;

   (4) intervention at the individual, family, community, organizational, institutional, and public policy levels with respect to drug use and other addictions.
COURSE FORMAT
Participating in this course will entail a variety of learning experiences. There will be lectures, guest presentations, open class discussions, student presentations, role playing and structured feedback experiences. Students will work at improving both their knowledge and skills. The knowledge will be shared in verbal, visual and written formats and the skills will involve student presentations, roles plays and giving and receiving constructive feedback from all participants. Students will be expected to come to the classes prepared and able to discuss the required reading assignments.

PREREQUISITES AND/OR COURSE RESTRICTIONS:

SOWK 440B is a practice course within the BSW program.

COURSE POLICIES [attendance, participation, academic dishonesty]

Excerpt from the UBC calendar:
Regular attendance is expected of students in all their classes (including lectures, laboratories, tutorials, seminars, etc.). Students who neglect their academic work and assignments may be excluded from the final examinations. Students who are unavoidably absent because of illness or disability should report to their instructors on return to classes.

The University accommodates students with disabilities who have registered with the Disability Resource Centre. The University accommodates students whose religious obligations conflict with attendance, submitting assignments, or completing scheduled tests and examinations. Please let your instructor know in advance, preferably in the first week of class, if you will require any accommodation on these grounds. Students who plan to be absent for varsity athletics, family obligations, or other similar commitments, cannot assume they will be accommodated, and should discuss their commitments with the instructor before the drop date.

It is recommended that students retain a copy of all submitted assignments (in case of loss) and should also retain all their marked assignments in case they wish to apply for a Review of Assigned Standing. Students have the right to view their marked examinations with their instructor, providing they apply to do so within a month of receiving their final grades. This review is for pedagogic purposes. The examination remains the property of the university.

Academic Dishonesty:
Please review the UBC Calendar “Academic regulations” for the university policy on cheating, plagiarism, and other forms of academic dishonesty. Also visit www.arts.ubc.ca and go to the students’ section for useful information on avoiding plagiarism and on correct documentation.
COURSE SCHEDULE*
*Please note that many factors will influence the order of the sessions below and that the schedule is subject to changes – as much notice as possible will be provided

Session 1  Sept. 7, 2017
The development of addiction
This session explores a number of different definitions of addiction and how our perceptions have been shaped by lived experience and societal influences. The “risk factors” or complex human experiences which can lead to the process of dependency are examined. This presentation acknowledges that context of use is the primary determent of whether an individual’s relationship with a substance is problematic or beneficial.

Required reading:
Fundamentals of Addiction: A Practical Guide to Counsellors, Chapters 1 and 3
High Price, Chapter 1

Session 2  Sept. 14, 2017
Harm Reduction Theory and Interventions
This presentation explores the theory behind services which are provided for active drug users. Services like needle exchange and supervised injection sites are intended to engage and empower clients and reduce the spread of disease. Staff who work in harm reduction settings, are often in the difficult position of needing to assist clients to negotiate between greater and lesser harms. This presentation will explore the history of harm reduction, the theory of public health, the foundational principles of harm reduction, social capital theory and the future of harm reduction.

Required reading:
High Price, Chapter 2 and 3
Fundamentals of Addiction: A Practical Guide to Counsellors, Chapter 4

Session 3  Sept. 21, 2017
Assessment and Counselling skills
This session will explore with discussions and role plays various counselling theories and approaches using a Bio-Psycho-Social-Spiritual approach.

Required reading:
Fundamentals of Addiction: A Practical Guide to Counsellors, Chapters 8, & 17

Session 4  Sept 28, 2017
Chemicals and the body – with Guest Speaker Cody Callon
This session explores the different classifications drugs and how our brain changes in response to drug use, and how this relates to attachment theory.
Required reading:
  Fundamentals of Addiction: A Practical Guide to Counsellors, Chapter 7
  Optional: Chapter 6
  High Price, Chapter 4 (pp75-82)

Session 5  Oct. 5, 2017
*Presentation topic proposals due
Community engagement & participatory research – guest speakers TBA
This session will feature a panel of people who identify as actively or formerly using drugs. The history and impact of Drug User groups such as VANDU and CAPUD will be explored. Discussion will focus on the importance of including people who use drugs especially in policy-making, program development and research.

Required reading:

Session 6  Oct. 12, 2017
Relapse and Recovery
This session explores how our thinking, feeling, acting, social and spiritual experiences are impacted by drugs and how these aspects of our lives need to be transformed in the recovery process. The importance of reworking our relationships with others is emphasized as the concept of “addiction as an attachment disorder” is explored. A series of relapse prevention recovery checklists are examined.

Required reading:
  Fundamentals of Addiction: A Practical Guide to Counsellors, Chapters 10 and 16

Session 7  Oct. 19, 2017
Working with Families – Guest speaker to be confirmed
This session explores key factors to consider when working with families affected by substance use. Understanding how family healing occurs is an important aspect of healing from addictions. We will role play various family counselling situations.

Required reading:
  Fundamentals of Addiction: A Practical Guide to Counsellors, Chapters 13 & 22

CRIMINALIZING PREGNANCY: POLICING PREGNANT WOMEN WHO USE DRUGS IN THE USA available for download at:
Session 8  Oct. 26, 2017
Helping others
As addiction is an attachment disorder, when we try to help someone who is experiencing substance dependence, we often experience rejection and hostility. This session explores how we can influence someone who is dealing with dependency which is usually associated with anger, defensiveness, conflict and stress.

Required reading:
Fundamentals of Addiction: A Practical Guide to Counsellors, Chapter 5
High Price, Chapter 5 & 6

Session 9  Nov. 2, 2017
*Final Paper topics submitted
Social Policy: Healing our society
This presentation explores how our whole society needs to evolve in order to collectively heal from addictions. There is a changing view of drugs around the globe which is moving towards seeing drugs and addiction as a health problem and not a criminal justice problem. Most European and South American countries, and Australia are moving away from a “war on drugs” paradigm towards a public health mode of drug control. This controversial new model which challenges the fundamentals of drug prohibition will be examined. The concept of an evidence based regulated market for currently illegal drugs, based on public health and human rights will be examined.

Required reading:
High Price, Chapter 7, 9 & 17

Session 10  Nov. 9, 2017
Individual student presentations and feedback
Presentations and feedback: All students will give a brief presentation (15 min) on a relevant topic and will give each other constructive feedback on both the content and process.

Required reading: Articles to be distributed at least week prior by presenting duos

Session 11  Nov. 16, 2017
Individual student presentations and feedback
Presentations and feedback: All students will give a brief presentation (15 min) on a relevant topic and will give each other constructive feedback on both the content and process.

Required reading: Articles to be distributed at least week prior by presenting duos
Session 12  Nov. 23, 2017

Topics TBD based upon class interest, A Community Responding to Crisis

Guest Panel in overdose response.

Required reading:

High Price, Chapter 12, 13 & 15

Session 13  Nov 30, 2017

Working in the field of addictions.

This discussion will explore a variety of topics related to the experience of being an employee in the field of addictions. The topics will include:

- how to participate in an informational interview to gather information about a potential workplace,
- to what to expect in a panel interview,
- consideration of dual relationships

Final essay due. Nov 30, 2017

ASSIGNMENTS:

Submitting Assignments-
Students will hand their assignments in to the instructor during the regular scheduled class. If this is not possible then students can attach the assignment to an email.

Return of marked student assignments -
Either the instructor will return the assignments to students in class or the instructor will attach the assignment to an email to the student.

Late assignments-

Deadlines for the assignment of grades for grading purposes are established on the basis of the university schedule to assure submission of marks to the registrar’s office. In accordance with university policy, a deadline may be extended only in the event of serious illness or domestic affliction documented by the student’s physician and approved by Student Health Services.

Students who submit assignments late will have one mark deducted per day late from the final grade for the course.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS, DUE DATES AND GRADING:

Assignments:

Ongoing journal
Students will be expected to provide a one-page single spaced, journal paper each week with personal reflections on the subject, issues, content and process of the presentation of the day. Students will be judged by the depth, clarity and understanding of the material presented and their ability to reflect on the potential relevance of the material in their pending work as a social worker. It is important that social workers have an ability to understand how we all “filter” or “colour” our perceptions based on our own personal history. Therefore, students are encouraged to explore and take responsibility for how they are personally impacted by the class content and process. These journal reflections can be referenced but, as this is not primarily an academic exercise, references are optional.

Journal entries will be marked pass/fail

Due dates: At the beginning of each session 2 - 10

These will total 10% of the final grade.

Presentations and feedback

Students will choose a specific intervention, counseling, or other topic to co-present with another student. Presentations will be limited to 15 minutes. Topics will be approved in advance and will be relevant to social workers and reflect specific social work values and frameworks. The use of PowerPoint is suggested. For the presentation, each pair of students are required to have selected a journal article or other reference to be assigned to the class the week prior to the presentations. Students are encouraged to offer any resources or materials that would benefit the class, including a critical review of current literature and research.

Topics and pairings will be discussed and selected by the end of class October 5, 2017.

Evaluation will be based on both content and process:

(1) How effective was the presentation in regard to:
   - Content (related to the topic)
   - Cohesion (as reflected in organization and format)
   - Completeness
   - Clarity
   - Creativity

(2) How well did you engage and stimulate discussion and promote feedback among class members?

(3) A presentation process feedback sheet will be discussed in class and used to evaluate both the instructors and students presentations.

Due date: Nov 9, 16

This will be 40% of the final grade.

End of term paper

All students will write an end of term academic paper between 12 - 15 double spaced pages, (excluding cover and references which are APA style; font, Ariel or New Times Roman, size 12). This paper will be an analysis of a topic that is both relevant for social work and addictions and will build on existing references and will include the student’s original commentary literature. The topic can be an expansion upon the student’s class presentation. The paper will be both handed in at the last class and emailed in Word (*.doc
The goal is to produce a type of paper that could be published in a peer reviewed academic journal. All students will submit their suggestions for topics that will need to be approved in advance.

Due date: This paper will be due on the date of the last class
This paper will be 40% of final grade.

Class Participation
For this class to be successful in reaching its goals, regular student attendance and a desire to actively participate in learning and teaching, is critical.

Students will be asked contribute by:
- attending all classes (and being punctual)
- actively participating in the creation of a safe, positive learning environment
- reading all the required materials and participating in an informed discussion in class
- expressing constructive, thoughtful views on materials presented in the class
- active participation in practice experiences and role plays
- engaging other students with questions and ideas
- giving and receiving constructive feedback

Participation will be 10% of the final grade.
