School Vision: Building upon a foundation of social justice and an ethic of care, we are a community of learners actively engaged in the development of critical, transformative knowledge for social work practice.

BSW Mission: The BSW program addresses issues of power and issues of discrimination based on age, race, gender, sexual orientation, class and culture. The educational objective of the BSW curriculum is to provide students with the knowledge, values and skills necessary for an initial level of professional practice, focusing on the interface between personal problems and public issues. Critical thinking and structural analysis are central to the learning experience offered by the School and to the promotion of social justice and human well-being.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Building on third year practice courses, and particularly Social Work 316, this course is designed to continue to facilitate the integration of students' learning from field, practice, and theory courses for the purposes of their professional development. It will provide students the opportunity to critically reflect upon their practicum experience, monitor their practice development, continue to develop practice skills within a social work values and ethical context, and make connections between thinking, feeling, and doing, in relation to being a social worker. It is a blended online and in-class course.

Social Work 416 is a required course and is open only to students accepted into the School of Social Work. All third year courses, including practicum, must be completed before entry into Social Work 416. Social Work 405 must also be completed. Social Work 416 runs concurrently with Social Work 415.
COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Recognizing that dynamic and effective practice is iterative and involves the ability to blend practice methods with theories as well as the corresponding ability to develop working relationships with others, this course will encourage students to continue to examine their own developing skills and awareness of self in this role. Building on Social Work 316, this course will explore philosophical and ethical dilemmas associated with practice and help students to develop the means for considering and dealing with these common conundrums of practice. It will also reinforce students’ strengths and gifts.

This course acquaints each student with the various elements of professional development by providing an opportunity to participate in a collaborative discussion about their field placement experiences and the integration of these with their classroom learning. Throughout the course, students will be working toward developing ways of approaching practice by utilizing a consolidation of their learning in courses at the School, by continuing a self-assessment of skills, by analyzing experiences to date, and by readings which will be identified depending on need and interest.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES:

Excerpt from the UBC calendar:

Regular attendance is expected of students in all their classes (including lectures, laboratories, tutorials, seminars, etc.). Students who neglect their academic work and assignments may be excluded from the final examinations. Students who are unavoidably absent because of illness or disability should report to their instructors on return to classes.

Disabilities: The University accommodates students with disabilities who have registered with the Disability Resource Centre. The University accommodates students whose religious obligations conflict with attendance, submitting assignments, or completing scheduled tests and examinations. Please let your instructor know in advance, preferably in the first week of class, if you will require any accommodation on these grounds. Students, who plan to be absent for varsity athletics, family obligations, or other similar commitments, cannot assume they will be accommodated, and should discuss their commitments with the instructor before the drop date.

Academic Dishonesty: Please review the UBC Calendar “Academic regulations” for the university policy on cheating, plagiarism, and other forms of academic dishonesty. Also visit www.arts.ubc.ca and go to the students’ section for useful information on avoiding plagiarism and on correct documentation.

Retaining Assignments: Students should retain a copy of all submitted assignments in case of loss and should also retain all their marked assignments in case they wish to apply for a Review of Assigned Standing. Students have the right to view their marked examinations with their instructor, providing they apply to do so within a month of receiving their final grades. This review is for pedagogic purposes. The examination remains the property of the university.

COURSE POLICIES:

Submitting Assignments

Assignments should be submitted electronically or handed in at the beginning of the class on the day they are due.

Return of marked student assignments

Instructors coordinate the return of marked assignments. The options are as follows: a) the instructor returns the paper to students in class; b) if the paper has been submitted electronically, the instructor will mark it on-line and return to the student on-line.
Late assignments
Students must discuss any requests for late assignments directly with their instructor and must be prepared to submit a medical certificate.

ASSIGNMENTS - Practice Project Papers and Presentation:

Goals:
The assignments together should demonstrate your:
- understanding of the placement and agency context and of your role within it
- competence in practice and learning from experience
- ability to explain and reflect critically on your practice
- application of relevant theory, frameworks and research evidence
- ability to integrate practice and theory
- awareness of ethical and professional issues

1. Paper: Ethical Issues, Due February 27, 2017, 40%

Building on in-class discussions and readings, each student will write a paper on an ethical dilemma encountered during their placement. The paper will include:
- An ethical decision making framework
- Ethical challenge/issue faced in your placement
  - why it is an ethical issue; who is affected (clients, self, organization); value conflicts evident
- Options available to resolve the dilemma
  - Options you support; why?
- Analysis of issue using an ethical model, including discussion and recommendations
- How you did or would you attempt to resolve the dilemma
  - Values you relied on to make your decision? Why these ones?
  - How your reflexivity and understanding of diversity and intersectionality applies to this case
  - What consequences do you see your decision has on the other people involved?
- How this analysis can change your practice in the future?

Length of paper: 8-10 pages
Due date: February 26th, 2018
Weight: 40%

2. Case Presentation: Application of a Model or Framework, 40% Power Point

- Select one piece of work in which you used a specific model/framework.
- Clear and succinct description of the situation and model/framework applied
- Theoretical foundations of the model/framework
- Context for use of the model/framework in this case.
- Elements of model/framework most relevant to this piece of work.
- How you used it in this piece of work.
- Value and relevance of the model/framework to the work.
- Brief demonstration of the application of the theory/model/framework
  - Power Point
- Provide abstract (up to 200 words) to present to instructor.

Length of presentation: 10 minutes
Due date: To be discussed in class
3. Online Journal Entries: 20%

Students are required to write and upload to Blackboard Connect a reflective paper every two weeks starting the week of January 15th. The first entry will consider your agency and community context including a brief profile of agency and community in which agency/workload is based, e.g. significant geographic, demographic, socio-economic indicators relevant to service or users. Consider equity, diversity and context of placement (rural, international etc.). Consider the place of social work within agency/unit, e.g. primary/secondary, legal base, and main pressures on social worker. The final entry for the week of April 3rd, which should be integrative and reflective of your emerging professional social work identity, using experiences and learning across the courses and practicum. The online journal entries will serve to keep the instructor aware of practicum progress and to share with the instructor your reflections on issues, achievements challenges.

Length: 1-2 pages
Due date: Monday anytime online unless otherwise stated
Weight: 20%

Grading Criteria for papers, presentations and reflective journal entries:

- Meeting goals of the assignment
- Analysis: links to theory, use of critical lens where appropriate; discussion of meaning to you – intellectual, emotional, practical
- Implications for your social work practice
- Organization of the paper or presentation
- Quality of the writing; inclusion of scholarly references where appropriate
